

CALVIN KLEIN

654 Madison Avenue, New York, NY

The striking interior of the ground floor is a lively composition of soaring vertical elements that are used to define the double-height retail environment and strong horizontal elements used to draw people through the space and create a human scale for the display of Calvin Klein's Women's Collection.

