

LANCÔME COLOUR STUDIO

Macy's Union Square, San Francisco, CA

Flowing spatial elements and multiple lighting techniques were used to create various layers of intimacy and translucency to display the product and flatter the customer as she moves from the most public self-service areas for quick makeovers to the more private stations for in-depth consultations. See Case Study

Photography by Peter Paige